COVID-19 Update from Sappi Europe

Dear Juha,

Given the growing spread of COVID-19 Sappi Europe is continually assessing the necessary risks and associated actions needed to ensure business as usual.

As the intensity related to the spread of the virus has grown over the past few weeks, Sappi has taken measures to ensure we are able to maintain our normal service levels. Our own paper stocks are sufficiently high together with critical raw material stocks. Our logistics teams are continually assessing the evolving situation and adapting solutions as required.

Safety is extremely important at Sappi and country by country we are following government guidelines to ensure we do what we can to help minimize this situation. Our production facilities and offices are taking necessary precautions and travel has been reduced in line with current advice.

We will continue to communicate if and when we have a change of situation, but for now our approach is to continue in a safe and considered way.

Yours sincerely

Thomas Lang
Managing Director SAPPI CEE
